Take Hwy99N from Eugene; Go through Junction City;
Take a LEFT after the light by the Safeway gas station to get on Hwy99W;
When you get to Monroe, go RIGHT to stay on Hwy99W;
When you get past Monroe, go LEFT on Alpine Road(across the Railroad tracks);
Go LEFT again to Stay on Alpine Road; follow the Alsea Falls signs
Go LEFT onto Glenbrook Road; Glenbrook Rd turns into Fall Creek Access Road
Continue going forward (do NOT GO LEFT again to stay on Fall Creek Access Rd)
Fall Creek Access Rd turns into S. Fork Road

You'll see this sign on your right about a mile or so after the Alsea Falls turn off

Take the exit right after this sign and continue down until you cross a bridge over the river. The road will end and you will be at the Mountain Sobriety Campout

Hubert K. McBee Memorial Park is along South Fork Rd, just about a mile west of Alsea Falls. It's a small park that allows day use as well as overnight camping.

The South fork of the Alsea River runs right through the middle of the park and the campsites are settled right up along its banks.

Our site has a huge picnic table that seats at least 50 people.

You can set up camp on either side of the road ☺
